One of the banking firms, Hayden, Stone & Co., reported as interested in the proposed syndicate, has been interested and now is in several important steamship lines. In addition members of the firm are interested in one of the largest of the Pacific trading companies, Galen M. Stone, a member of the firm, being a director of the Pacific Commercial Company. One of the leading officers of the latter comments on his return a month ago to this pany on his return a month ago to this country from Manila deplored in the strongest terms the La Follette act as driving from the Pacific the Pacific Mail Company, to which he attributed much of the success that has been attained by American trade in the Orient.
